

New Monthly Community Lunch & Learn Program Launching at Newman Memorial Hospital.....Seeking YOUR input!

Newman Memorial Hospital is getting a new community program off the ground. Once a month, they will be offering a Lunch & Learn in the hospital cafeteria. These programs will be open to the public either for free or for a small fee (around $5). The program will include lunch and a speaker. The goal is to provide a meeting place for the participants to gather, enjoy some good food and gain knowledge about various topics related to health and the community. The first free Lunch and Learn will feature a speaker from Faith Hospice. Kerrie Stubbs is a hospice consultant. She will be covering topics such as what hospice is, when to call them, who pays for it and more. This will be followed by a question and answer period. Lunch & Learn: Hospice 101 will be on Tuesday, May 23rd, 2017 from noon to 12:30 in the hospital cafeteria, free of charge. Please RSVP to Joey Burgtorf at 580-928-5529 or by email at jburtorf@newmanmemorialhospital.org. If you have suggestions for future topics, please contact Joey Burgtorf, Community Liaison & Marketing Director at the aforementioned contacts. Joey says, "I really look forward to getting this project going. It's a great concept that has done well in other communities. I really hope to hear from people about what they would like to see covered in these informative lunches. This is another way that we can serve our community and bring people together!"
